
Pricing

All Phase Design upholstered pieces are priced "COM/COL" and do not include the price of fabrics. Leather, suede, and vinyl may incur an additional surcharge.

Yardage Requirements & Specifications

Yardage requirements are available in the pricing list, on tear sheets, and on quotations. Customers are free to source fabrics, or Phase Design can make suggestions when requested. Phase Design reserves the right to reject any COM/COL fabric yardage that it considers unsuitable. All COM/COL will be cut and applied at the discretion of Phase Design. Phase Design will make every effort to accommodate customer requests for the directional application of fabrics, but does not guarantee that it will be fulfilled. In the event that the customer specifies more than one COM/COL choice on a product, additional yardage may be required, and a contrasting fabric surcharge will apply.

COM/COL yardage requirements listed are based on fifty-four inch (54") wide fabric, with no repeat. Fabrics which have a repeat that must be matched will require more yardage, and are subject to an additional surcharge. Contact Phase Design for additional yardage requirements for fabrics with a repeat. Any additional yardage required must be purchased at the customer's own expense. When sourcing COL leather, 18 sq. ft of leather is needed for each yardage of fabric required. (1 yard fabric = 18 sq. ft of leather.)

Phase Design makes every effort to accurately predict the yardage or sq. ft. required for each order, but in the event that additional COM/COL yardage is required, it is the customer's responsibility to supply the material.

Delivery

COM/COL fabric yardage must be delivered to Phase Design at the customer's own expense. COM/COL fabric yardage must be delivered to Phase Design within three (3) weeks of receipt of deposit payment. Any COM/COL fabric yardage which will not be delivered within three (3) weeks must first be noted and approved by Phase Design at the time of deposit payment. Delays in receipt of COM/COL material will result in adjusted lead times.

Unused COM fabric will not be returned to the customer unless specifically requested in writing at the time of order placement, and only at the customer's own expense. Phase Design is not responsible for lost or damaged COM/COL fabric.

Tagging

All COM/COL fabric yardage must be properly tagged on the shipping documents to ensure Phase Design can match the customer's fabric with the correct order. COM/COL yardage that is not properly tagged or marked may result in delays. COM/COL should be tagged using the following format:

Purchaser/ Vendor: _____
Project Name: _____
Product: _____

Flammability

It is the responsibility of the customer to advise Phase Design of the local fire code regulations and requirements for final shipping and installation destination at the time of order placement. All upholstered goods meet California Technical Bulletin 117 regulations. Please contact us should California Technical Bulletin 133 regulations be required.

Warranty

Phase Design is in no way responsible for performance of any fabric and does not warrant COM/COL fabrics. Phase Design is not responsible for defective COM/COL, and all COM/COL are accepted to be first quality goods. Materials which are extremely stretchy and pliable, such as some leathers and vinyls, may stretch out and puddle. Phase Design can not predict the performance of materials. Phase Design is not responsible for upholstery tailoring variances that result from the application of a particular fabric or leather. Please see the Phase Design Warranty in the Terms & Conditions for full Warranty information.
