

isabella

Frustrated with a lack of thoughtful housing for orchids, the designer set out to create an understated yet elegant solution. Available in two heights, these raised planters elevate orchids and plants, creating a visually stunning centerpiece. Isabella can stand confidently alone or look fashionably complete in multiples. These individually handcrafted planters have a hand sanded fiberglass shell that is completed with an automotive polyurethane paint with a clear coat finish. The finish is then color wet-sanded to achieve its deep and glossy shell. This type of finish is usually reserved for the aircraft and automotive industries. The Isabella is also available for outdoor use.

Specifications Hand polished polyester-resin gel coated fiberglass plant tower. Also available for outdoor use. Available in flat black, flat white, or gloss white.
